

Bellevue School Wins Inter-School Track Meet

Bellevue was the victor in the Inter-School Track Meet held in Blairmore on Wednesday, October 13th. Although the Bellevue representatives excelled at the jumping events, they seemed to have no trouble in demonstrating their superiority at the sprints also. Bellevue's total points were 145, Blairmore being their next nearest rival with a score of 98 points. Hillcrest came third and Coleman fourth. Frank, who has only two roomed school, did very well in the junior events managing to take seven points from her bigger rivals.

The individual star of the Meet was John Bovio of Bellevue, who won the individual championship with ease by amassing a total of 26 points. Among the girls Ida Penman proved herself the best representative with 15 points to her credit.

With perfect weather and full entries from each school, Blairmore was thronged with enthusiastic youngsters who lost no opportunity to cheer their champions on to possible victory. Every event was closely contested and in the Junior classes especially there was some good athletic talent displayed. The success of the meet bodes well for future events of this kind and in all probability this will become an annual event among the schools of The Pass.

Great credit is due to Mr. MacPherson and to Mr. Muncester of Blairmore, who, with the help of some of the business men of Blairmore and of the Rev. Young handled the meet in a very efficient manner.

Alex. Rankin Wins Gate Cup President of Quoting Club Makes Presentation

A very interesting event took place on the evening of October 2nd at the home of Mr. Alex. Rankin, 6th street, Coleman, when the members of the local Quoting Club gathered to celebrate the closing of their recent club competition.

President Harry Gate was in the chair, and after some preliminary remarks anent the success of the organizations first season, made the following presentations:

1st prize—Silver cup, gold medal and $10 gold piece, Mr. Alex. Rankin.

2nd prize—Gold medal and $5 gold piece, Mr. J. Low.

3rd prize—Gold medal, Mr. R. Penman.

4th prize—Gold medal, Mr. A. Rankin, Jr.

Following the presentations several members of the club expressed their appreciation of President Gate's generosity in donating the beautiful silver cup for competition, and also thanked him for the active interest he had taken in promoting the club's welfare during its first year. Judging from the optimistic tone, as expressed by all those who spoke at the gathering, the Coleman Quoting Club has a very rosy future in store.

At this writing a novice competition is under way which is creating considerable interest. Mr. T. Jackson has reached the finals, and will likely meet Mr. W. Roughhead in the final match the latter part of this week.

Gwen May Brown, W. Coleman Wins Grade VIII Gold Medal.

Word was received this week from the Department of Education, Edmonton, that Gwen May Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brown, West Coleman, had secured the highest aggregate marks for Grade VIII. in the Coleman public schools, thus winning the gold medal given by the local branch of the Women's Institute to the pupil in this grade receiving the highest standing.

The Journal joins with the many friends of wee Miss Brown in extending hearty congratulations on the signal honor she has won during the past school term, and trusts that this attainment may be the forerunner of many more symbols of proficiency.

Following the usual custom adopted in past years by the Women's Institute, it is likely that this organization will shortly arrange for the holding of a public gathering when the presentation will be made.

Trail Rangers Hike to Lille

The Trail Rangers of the United Church had a very successful hike last Saturday. At half past nine promptly, sixteen boys and the leader left the church. The objective was Lille and the trail followed by way of Granton town. The morning was rather cool, but improved. A halt was made near Lille for lunch which was taken round the camp fire. A vote was taken to decide the route home and it was decided to keep on and return by Frank and Blairmore.

For most of the boys this was the longest walk ever undertaken. They recommend it to their elders. There was some excitement in Frank. The local dogs thought to try conclusions with the dogs accompanying the Coleman boys. We held our animals and the Frank dogs made a good retreat. The Blairmore dogs were more discreet although very vocal.

On Saturday, weather permitting, the objective will be the lake with the cave as a side trip. There will be the usual mid week meeting on Friday evening at seven o'clock.

A very enjoyable and successful social was held in the club rooms of the United Church on Tuesday evening of this week when the past members of the choir with their husbands and wives were the guests of the official board. There was a program of songs, speeches and readings to which Mrs. Ashbridge, Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Glendenning, Mr. Hayson, Mr. Fairhurst, Mr. Jones and Mr. Holmes contributed. The minister was in the chair. Refreshments were served by the wives of the members of the board. The signs are all in favor of their being a good choir for the balance of the year. The C. G. I. 500,000 CHINESE FACING DEATH IN BESIEGED CITY

Hankow—Pinned up more than a month by the Red Cantonese armies besieging the city, 500,000 Chinese people face death by starvation, cold and gunfire in Wuhan. Large numbers of dead lie in the streets. Those remaining have eaten dogs, cats and rats and are dropping in public places or dying miserably in shelters into which they have crawled.

The Northern troops of Marshal Wu Peifu, garrisoning the city, having been refused terms of surrender, are holding on desperately, hoping for aid from their ally, Sun Chuan-fang, to break through the Cantonese cordon.

Meanwhile the relentless and well-fed Cantonese outside the wall rest patiently on their arms, having blockaded all exits from the city and await the time when they shall enter. What will happen then is not known.

A vestige of mercy has been shown. Beginning last Sunday, women and children of the impoverished classes have been permitted to pass through the gates to the river, seeking passage across to Hankow. Thirty-eight thousand have been rescued by boats bearing the emblem of Hankow to be cared for.

Scenes of horror are witnessed each trip of the boats. In the fight for places on the boats several hundreds have been trampled to death as the panicked hordes struggled for room. Many, thrown into the river, are drowned.

Only a few miles away are the troops of Sun Chuan-fang, ruler of the five provinces of Eastern China, trying to thrust aside the Cantonese and oppose their march to the relief of the beleaguered Wuhan. Seemingly relief must come to the Wuhan defenders within a few days.

Final Payment On 1925 Wheat To Be Made Soon

Winnipeg.—Several millions of dollars will be distributed among the farmers of Western Canada's members of the Wheat Pool, shortly.

The final payment on 1925 wheat delivered by members of the pools in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta probably will be announced early this week. A. J. MacPhail, president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool and vice-president of the Cooperative Selling Agency, will announce the date from his Regina office, according to information secured at the Manitoba Pool offices.

Mr. MacPhail is the chief official now in Canada, the others being in or en route to Australia. The Canadian Pool has already made three payments totalling $1.40, while many farmers are now enjoying the initial payment of $1 on the 1925 crop. Deliveries of the 1925 crop, however, are far behind last year's, owing to the wet weather. The total deliveries in Western Canada so far this year are about 40,000,000 bushels. Very little grain has been received from Alberta, but Saskatchewan has contributed 25,000,000 bushels, and Manitoba about 15,000,000.

Kraassin Returns As Envoy For Soviets

Seeks British Gold For Rehabilitation Of Russian Industry

London.—The return of Leonid Kraassin to London as soviet envoy is thought to make the beginning of a new phase of Anglo-Russian relations. Mr. Kraassin, as he admitted in a general interview with the press, comes seeking money for the rehabilitation of Russian industry, and as he is a keen business man he realizes it cannot be obtained unless serious arrangements for the repayment, not only of the new, but the old debts are made immediately.

His return is due to the culmination of a long series of secret negotiations with persons who, while not directly representing the conservative British Government, are in close touch with it.

The conservative government is very anxious to resume friendly relations with Russia for the sake of the Russian market, which, it is afraid, may go to Germany if the resumption of relations with England is long delayed. However, Prime Minister Baldwin still insists on a settlement in principle, at any rate, of the old debts. It is believed Russia is now willing to do this if not called on to pay too much and too soon.

The British also are disposed to insist on some guarantee that Russia will cease to interfere in the domestic affairs of Great Britain, and is willing to give a guarantee not to interfere in Russia. This means Russia must promise to cease financing labor trouble in England.

PROBABLY NO OPPOSITION TO KING MINISTERS

Ottawa.—Conservative political observers expressed the opinion that there will probably be no objection by their party to the re-election of any of the Liberal ministers at the coming by-elections on November 9, made necessary by the formation of the King cabinet.

While no official announcement has been made, it is intimated, however, that the final decision is a matter to be dealt with by the Conservative executive in the various ridings affected.

The belief that Liberal ministers will be returned without opposition, insofar as Conservative headquarters are concerned, is partly based upon an official statement issued recently from former Premier Meighen's office that the presence of Premier W. L. Mackenzie King at the Imperial conference will be facilitated as far as possible.

Already advice has been received from Regina that Conservatives there will offer no opposition to the re-election of Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals.

There are rumors, however, of possible opposition by local Conservatives to Col. J. L. Ralston, in Nova Scotia, in the event of his appointment to the portfolio of Minister of National Defence.

Steamship Lines Feel German Competition

Lines Being Taken Off New York To Hamburg Run

Montreal.—Competition from German steamship lines operating to New York from Hamburg is said to be responsible for the projected withdrawal in the near future of several British companies from that run. The White Star line, which operates the Arabic on a five weeks schedule to Halifax and New York, return being made direct to Hamburg, took this ship off the run after her departure from Hamburg October 2. The liner will be employed on the Antwerp, Bournemouth, Southampton, Halifax, New York run, her sailing from New York October 30 being direct to Antwerp and the next from Europe will be out of the Belgian port.

The S.S. Andania of the Cunard Line has been on the Hamburg, Southampton, Cherbourg, Halifax and New York service, but it is expected she will be taken off on the completion of her schedule which calls for a sailing on October 26 and another on December 1 to Halifax and New York.

No change is being made in the Canadian Pacific sailings to Hamburg.

May Visit West

Sir Alan Cobham Is Planning Trans-Canada Flight

London.—Sir Alan Cobham, upon whom the honor of knighthood was conferred a few days ago in recognition of the famous aviator's series of world-renowned flights, will visit Western Canada some time in the near future. It is stated in reliable quarters here, Cobham is planning a trans-Canada survey flight in which he will visit many points in the Dominion. No definite date has yet been set for this projected trip, but it is said to be one of the flight plans entrusted by the British ace for the near future.

The Daily Express today said that Cobham was contemplating a trans-Atlantic plane flight and that it would likely follow a lecture tour throughout North America. Plans for this flight have been under consideration for some time, the paper stated.

Sir Alan Cobham but recently returned to London from a round trip to Australia, in which he proved conclusively the feasibility of such long distance flying if experienced aviators and worthy planes are employed.

Will Honor War Dead

Two Wreaths Being Sent Overseas By St. John's Ambulance Brigade

Montreal.—Tribute from Canada to those who gave their lives in the great war was paid by the St. John Ambulance Brigade overseas in the laying of the wreaths in London and on the tomb of the unknown warrior who lies in Westminster Abbey of two wreaths of maple leaves and sprigs of spruce and pine. The wreaths will be deposited on Armistice Day by Mrs. Lancetot Bent, lady superintendent in chief for all brigades overseas, on behalf of the women of the order, and by Major General Sir Richard Havelock Charles, chief commissioner for the St. John Ambulance Brigade overseas for the men members.

LORD BYNG IS INTERVIEWED ON REACHING HOME

Southern.—Lord and Lady Byng arrived at Southampton on board the Empress of France, which was gallantly escorted by the battleships.

The Governor-General of Canada and Lady Byng were officially welcomed by the mayor and sheriff, and then his lordship received a large group of newspapermen.

One of the first enquiries put to Lord Byng by the press representatives was with regard to his constitutional power as Governor-General, which question was raised recently in connection with the political situation in Canada.

"I think we had better leave that alone," said Lord Byng with a laugh. "Everything turned out very satisfactorily. If the question is raised at all again it will be at the Imperial conference, but at the present moment there is nothing one can say about it. As I say, it all worked out very well."

Asked about the recent Dominion election the opinion that the result of the election was mainly due to the popularity of the Robb budget, with reduced taxation, and to three good harvests.

Lord Byng spoke with enthusiasm of the prospects which Canada opened to British people who were prepared to work hard there.

Some of the newspapermen asked Lord Byng about the national status of Canada and the possibility of the fusion of the Dominion with the United States.

"There are extremists in every part—imperial extremists and Canadian autonomy extremists," His Lordship replied.

"Is the union of Canada with the United States possible?" was another question asked of His Lordship.

"A union of friendliness, most certainly," replied Lord Byng, "who throughout the interview showed the almost incessant catchiness with characteristic patience and good humor. 'You need not worry about Canadian extremists on this side of the ocean,' he added."

Touching on his relations with the politicians at Ottawa, Lord Byng said: "I have been Governor-General since Conservative and Liberal ministers have been in the head of affairs, and my relations never have been anything but of an extremely friendly nature with everybody."

BRITISH MINERS REJECT OFFER OF THE GOVERNMENT

London.—The delegate conference of the Miners' Federation by an overwhelming majority, rejected the Government's offer to create a national arbitral tribunal for the settlement of the differences between the miners and mine owners, and by an equally large majority voted in favor of the withdrawal of the safety men from the mines.

Thus the Government passes out of the dispute, temporarily at least and the owners and the men are left to fight out the struggle between themselves.

The delegate conference adopted a resolution rejecting the Government's proposals for a settlement of the strike after the announcement of a district vote, which opposed the proposal 737,000 to 4,000.

The South Wales resolution to withdraw the safety men was adopted by the delegates 59,000 to 19,000.

The government had already made it plain that unless its offer was accepted by the miners, it would be withdrawn immediately. The principal feature of the offer was governmental assurance that if the miners returned to work they would be accorded governmental assistance in obtaining a nationwide agreement, which is one of the important demands of the miners.

The decision of the miners was taken in the face of practical exhaustion of their resources. In addition, their position is daily becoming weaker by a slow drift of the miners back to work. Withdrawal of the safety men, if put into effect, is considered likely to cause serious trouble not only in the mines, but between the strikers and those desiring to return to their labor.

AUTUMN.

The first suggestions of autumn are not so much seen as felt. They are vague and indistinct, yet real. The fading of summer into fall resembles the subtle changes that overtake one at middle life, in that it is slight, gentle and unobtrusive. There is a little lessening of vision, and the eyes are weary after extended reading. So comes the resort to spectacles, not of course that they are really needed, but as an "aid to reading, a preventive only," for no man or woman would willingly openly acknowledge that they are getting old. There is a slight slowing up of physical activities, a resolution not to overdo; a feeling that one has earned the right to slacken the pace and relax a little oftener. Yet there is still zest in living, and charm and color and melody continue to allure. Thus, slowly, almost imperceptibly, but surely comes the knowledge that one has reached high noon and the shadows must of necessity lengthen toward the east. It is in the month of September that summer fades into autumn. The tokens at first are not numerous, but they are there. Something in the air is alien to August, a certain crispness that is tonic. There is a slight haze on the horizon. The greenness of the earth and trees is subdued, and there are faint tints of brown appearing here and there. There is a shimmering and a shivering in the wheat fields. A few of the birds have already answered the call of the southland, but many linger to gladden the eye of the wayfarer and cheer his heart. Winter seems a long way off, and it is good to know that between September days and flurry of snow and ice—forgetting what we already have had—were the flaming splendors of October.

The days are cool, but not too cool for comfort. The rays of the sun are genial, but not unpleasantly warm. The early mornings are bracing, and the early evenings have in them a quality of dreamy ardor. The leaves are falling, but not in profusion. Summer fades slowly, almost imperceptibly as the charm of a beautiful woman in her early forties, whose eyes are still eloquent, and with healthful fervor undiminished.

SCHOOL FAIRS HAVE MADE REMARKABLE DEVELOPMENT

In less than twenty years since the first school fair was held in the Province of Ontario, when it was heavily dreamt the time would ever come when possibly more than a thousand school fairs would be conducted in one season.

There is not the slightest doubt that if the success of this wonderful success is sought, it will be found in the earnest whole hearted support that has been given by the teachers, who have successfully inculcated the pupils with the possibilities of achievement, through the growing crops; production of improved animals and birds, and the actual output of the many articles that appeal to the particular fancies of the pupils. Given possession of an animal, or a plot of ground, the desire of achievement is developed, and he seeks information on how to handle and develop these under the best conditions that he can control. The School Fair is well worthy of the parents best support, first in the interest of the pupil, and secondly in appreciation of the painstaking efforts of the teacher.

The Provincial Government might very well increase their grants considerably, and lighten the burden of those who are giving their time and money to make the school fairs successful.

In the human family, love and affection are the prevailing forces that attract man to woman. They are the fundamentals of the home and the family life on which the community and the province itself are founded. To attempt to remove them and to place the mating of man and woman on the cold scientific plane which humanity is directing in the animal world, might produce a stronger race, physically, but would destroy in mankind those instincts which are his first heritage, and which today build for him his greatest happenings and the really worth while things of life.

Without doubt one of the greatest factors in the success of a home, of a business, or of a community is the hearty co-operation of all interested. The united, unselfish effort of a family will build and furnish a home even under very adverse circumstances. The same sort of effort will build a great business in which everyone from the manager to the office boy benefits materially. Co-operation coupled with unselfish service will transform a hamlet into a town and a town into a city, and all its inhabitants will benefit during the transformation.

Investigations of religious scandals are quite as likely to be productive of definite results as investigations of political scandals. We cannot yet understand the purport of the conflict between the law and Mrs. Aimee McPherson; but we know perfectly well what the effect of it will be.

Clarence Darrow, the eminent advocate and resourceful pleader, prays to be taken out of this blood-thirsty world. Mr. Darrow saved several blood-thirsty and blood-shedding creatures from the scaffold. Possibly he is eager to find out what the shades of the victims of his clients think of his conduct.

New Volume Is Written Describing The Wonders And Beauties Of Canadian Scenery

Can you imagine a span of a thousand million years or so? If you can, try to picture to yourself the scene which the Rocky Mountains now stand, with their snow-crowned peaks towering into the sky at the bottommost depths of an inland sea.

Do you know how the Rockies were formed? By what Titanic forces these great masses were crumpled and folded and lifted high in the air?

It is a most interesting story that geology tells us concerning the formation of this gigantic range through the ages—some before the human race dwelt upon the earth, and only one of the many other fascinating things that one learns about one's own land, in "Picturesque America," a deluxe volume, superbly illustrated with 500 photographs and charmingly written, which has been published recently by "The Resorts and Playgrounds of America," New York.

It is a compelling, and not one undervalued, to Canada, that this book, which describes so clearly and vividly the wonders and beauties of the parks and beauty spots of North America, should give over more than one-quarter of its space to Canada's great playground. It cannot but be recognized that her parks are unique in the magnitude of their size and beauty of color, in their preservation of game and wild creatures, and in their possession of great, virgin forests and vast regions as yet unexplored.

The National Parks of Canada are 13 in number and range in area from a few square miles to 4,900 square miles. For the most part they are found in the western part of the country; while the three most beautiful—Rocky Mountain, Banff, Yoho and Glacier, lie along the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Many well-known writers, such as Robert Sterling Ward, Zane Grey, Mary Roberts Rinehart, Henry Van Dyke, Charles Lummis, Arthur Stringer, Mary Carolyn Davies, and J. B. Clark have contributed to this volume, which maintains a high standard of literary quality throughout. Scores of nature-lovers, well-known poets are scattered throughout, and there is added a complete index and bibliography. The volume is the charm of the book. Its value as one of reference, it would seem that its purpose—to make better known and thus better appreciated the scenic marvels of America's wildernesses, must be accomplished.

Dakota Settler Likes Saskatchewan

Says Any Farmer Who Wants to Work Can Make Money in the West

Mr. W. J. Hope gives the following statement of his experience as a settler in Saskatchewan to the Canadian Government Agent at Grand Forks, N.D.: "I take great pleasure in telling you what I think of the Canadian Northwest. I purchased three quarters of land in 1921 in the Wood Mountain country, southwest of Moose Jaw. There were 150 acres broken on the farm. In 1922 I operated the farm myself and produced 4,000 bushels of wheat, built a fence around half a section, also a granary, garage and shack.

"In 1923 I rented the farm, and broke 12 acres. In 1924 I broke 25 acres. In 1925 I built a barn with a hay loft 28 by 22, also a storehouse half house, 18 by 22, with full basement, and kitchen 18 by 24. The house is plastered and back-plastered, stained and varnished inside. All buildings are well painted. I also bought one more quarter section.

"This farm has produced enough to pay for all buildings had still have $2,300 net profit in addition to paying for the farm itself.

"I claim this country is the garden of Saskatchewan. Any farmer who wants to work can make money in this country."

Complete Test Flight

Two superplanes have just completed a test flight from Berlin to Peking and back for the purpose of establishing a basis for a regular air service to the far east. The victory's return was witnessed by Traffic Minister Krohn and other government representatives; the Russian ambassador, the Chinese and Lithuanian ministers, and Sven Hedin, the explorer.

World Wheat Shortage

All Factors Seem to Point to a Keen Demand This Year

Wheat production on the world's wheat lands in 1925 is 25,000,000 bushels less than the previous year, according to an official estimate issued by the Bureau of Statistics. This is the case notwithstanding an increase in production on this continent of nearly 40,000 bushels.

Taking the production in all countries other than Canada and the United States—the crop this year will be 64,000,000 bushels less than in 1925.

In North America, while Canada expects a smaller crop, the United States will increase their yield by more than 100,000,000 bushels. All factors seem to point to a keen demand of wheat, according to the report, which reads: "India is not expected to be able to spare any appreciable quantity of wheat for export and the situation at wheat in Russia is very uncertain. Last year it was forecast officially that the export of wheat from the Soviet Republic might exceed 110,000,000 bushels, but from July 1 to December 31, 1925, they were actually only 14,000,000 bushels.

"The wheat crop in France is reported considerably below that of 1925, the bulletin includes. The general outlook appears therefore to be for a strong demand for the Canadian crop."

Says Canada Needs

National Viewpoint

President of Canadian Press Gives Address in Toronto

Canada needs to think nationally to increase sympathy and usefulness throughout the world, the President of the Canadian Press, J. H. Woods, said in his address to the Canadian Press Association, which was held in Toronto last night.

Mr. Woods spoke of the subject of "Canada," which, he said, had stood for more than 200 years as the "land of the open trail."

Tracing the story of the explorer, the pathfinder, the pioneer, and early settler in Canada, Mr. Woods pointed out that Canada had accomplished much. Her legislative system had come to be regarded as a model among the peoples of the world. Canada had shown the world how great nations could live side by side in harmony and yet maintain in that relationship independence and self-respect.

Bullfinch Set in the World

The busiest section of sidewalk in the world is just south of Madison street on State street in Chicago, according to a survey just completed by the Association of Commerce. The survey says that by actual count 40,000 persons walk over this section of pavement every hour during the rush hours on week days. The walk is only 20 feet wide from the building line to the curb.

Children's clothing may be made practically fireproof if soaked for a few moments in a solution of ammonium phosphate.

Synthetic Sunshine

Obtaining Food From the Light of the Sun and Nitrogen of the Air

The world need never go hungry as long as the sun shines. So the chemists have declared at the Institute of Politics, at Williamstown, Massachusetts; and since scientists say so.

Food in the future, it appears, is to be obtained from the light of the sun and the nitrogen of the air. Proteins and carbohydrates—these elements of nutrition which you hardly can escape getting in a good dinner whether you like it or not—will probably be made in the factory rather than raised in the farm. "Thirty men in a factory the size of a city block can produce in the form of yeast as much food value as 1,000 men working on 75,000 acres under ordinary agricultural conditions." These words of good cheer come from the same men who recently promised to do away with wars over fuel oil fields by methods of extracting petroleum from coal shale. What the 750 prospective farmers would be doing, and whether they would like their food in the form of yeast when they got it, were questions left to other prophets.

All the rest of us have to do, it seems, is to trust the chemists. We all like, at times, to imagine to our selves the happy life of North Sea Islanders, lying under trees in the sun and allowing ripe breadfruit and bananas to drop into their laps. But in these less kindly northern latitudes, where the sun sometimes fails to shine and occasionally it rains, no such easy solution of the problem of living is in sight.—From the Outlook, N.Y.

Sardines Leave Home Waters

Cold Currents Along French Coast Found to Be Responsible

The French marine research vessel La Tanche has just found out why sardines leave home.

The problem has been bothering French fishermen and sardine packers for several years, for the canneries have been threatened with closing down because the tiny fish no longer move in great schools along the French coast.

The research workers found that cold currents have come into the once rich sardine fields and have driven them farther out to sea, where the French fishing fleet, at greater distance, is now hauling them in by netfuls.

Population Increases

An average increase of nearly five per cent in the population of twenty federal electoral districts in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, as compared with 1921 figures, is shown by the quinquennial census of the three prairie provinces, taken on June 1, 1926. The total population of these twenty electoral districts is given as 803,826, confided with 735,908 in 1921. This announcement is made in a preliminary statement of population recently issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Dusting vs. Spraying The Potato

Report of Experiment Undertaken at Fredericton, N.B.

The report for 1925 of the Dominion botanist is particularly worthy of study and cogitation by every agriculturist and grower of any sort of potato. It is a report of rare completeness, covering records of its investigation and remedial experiments of practically every disease conducted by botanical experts connected with the Dominion Experimental Farm Station. Mr. D. M. MacLeod, plant pathologist in charge at Fredericton, N.B., deals largely with diseases affecting the potato. Among other things he tells of a valuable experiment carried out to test the relative efficiency of various dusts as compared with spray mixtures, about which there is considerable diversity of opinion.

A field of four and three-quarters was divided into three plots of equal area. The land was of average fertility and apparently uniform throughout. Certified French Mountain potatoes were experimented with. Liquid Bordeaux was applied by means of a power sprayer with a four-inch nozzle boom and Bordeaux dust and copper carbonate dust by means of a manual traction crop duster provided with a drag canvas. Efforts were made to apply the dust and spray mixtures in the composition and application of which are given in tabular form in the report, which is to be had free on addressing the Publications Branch, Ottawa—in such quantities that equal amounts of metallic copper would be used.

While the results are not considered conclusive, the experiment having been conducted for only one year, a table published shows that better yields followed the Bordeaux dust than the spray as applied with power machines against such diseases as early and late blight.

Discovery Is Made That Rust Spores Are Spread By Winds Over Great Distances

An Important Industry

Export of Flower Seeds from B.C. Is Rapidly Increasing

The culture of flower seeds is becoming an increasing industry in British Columbia. The activity thus far has been confined to Vancouver Island, where it has been conducted successfully at Saanichton, Sidney, Comox Hill, Duncan, Royal Oak, Victoria and other points. It is now likely to be extended to the mainland.

"The production of flower seeds has become an important industry in this province. Every year a greater quantity of seed is shipped from British Columbia, and England in particular is coming to depend to a greater extent on the warm climate and rich soil of Vancouver Island for its supply of seeds. Millions of flowers blossoming all over England have generated from seeds produced in Canada.

The commercial production of sweet pea seed in particular has made great strides in the last few years, and a considerable trade has developed with seed houses in England. Sweet peas grown on Vancouver Island by its English gardeners reached such perfection that he sent a sample to the old country, in response came an immediate order for half a ton of seed.

Exports of Canadian seed of all kinds in the last three fiscal years have been respectively worth $3,547,742, $10,314,987 and $16,782,105."

Filming Clouds

American Moving Picture Concern Goes Ahead to Get Cloud Effects

The resources of the canning industry in the States is well known, but a new phase commences when the cinema people decide to "can clouds." Hollywood is an ideal place for film making, owing to the clear air and bright sunshine, but there are pictures which need cloud scenes, and to complete them it is often necessary for the photographer to go far afield for his effects, what time the release of the film is delayed. To overcome this defect, and to have a reserve of "clouds," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company have decided to have a man specially engaged in "booth" cloud scenes, and the celluloid records will be kept, in their familiar tin, at the headquarters of the firm for use as, and when, required.—London Chronicle.

Increase in Wheat Production

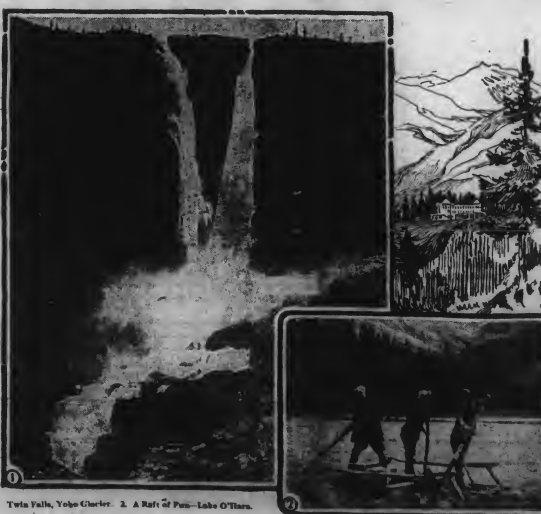

Agriculture encloses one-third of the national wealth of Canada, according to E. S. Archibald, director of the Canadian Government Experimental Farm. "It is quite possible," he said, "that with no more acreage than the present 22 millions under wheat cultivation in Canada, an increase of ten bushels per acre in production, may be secured."

How Plaster of Paris

Received Its Name

French Capital Built Up Of Beds Where

Plaster of Paris is derived from a mineral called gypsum. Burned first to dry off the superfluous water, this gypsum yields a fine chalky powder which, when mixed with again into a paste, and pressed into a mold, hardens into a perfect replica of its model, so making an ideal material for cheap lighting and the like.

Gypsum is found in many parts of the world, but a large bed of Paris happens to be built over whole beds of it, that city was the first to discover this particular way of using it. Hence models and statues so fashioned were spoken of as being made of the plaster of Paris.

Duke Charmed With Rockies

The beauty and charm of the Canadian Pacific Rockies have registered strongly upon the tourist, the trail rider and the mountain climber and of the many expressions of approval received at the tourist department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the following was received from Duke Dimitri of Leuchtenberg, Count de Beauharnois, who journeyed with the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies during their recent annual ride from Lake Louise. From Banff he writes:

"I am terribly sorry that this wonderful summer is coming to an end. This country is certainly one of the most beautiful and widest I have ever seen in. Lake Louise is really an ideal spot. I shall have about 3,000 feet of him of the prettiest spots of the region surrounding Banff and Lake Louise. We are about to start out for Mt. Assiniboine where from we shall see to the Yoho Valley."

The Duke is a lineal descendant of Charles, Marquis de Beauharnois, who governed Canada in the name of the French King Louis XV. between 1726 and 1747. He travelled from Chebourg on the C.P. line, Necha, meeting his cot in the Marquis d'Albini to take part in the 34-day ride of the Trail Riders.

From Scotland's Best Experimental Farm

This is one of 25 magnificent Clydesdale stallions which arrived recently on the Anchor-Donalson Freighters at Montreal. They were none the worse for their long sea voyage from Glasgow, but were enthusiastic over getting ashore again. This shipment of pure-bred horses was brought over by Q. C. Pitt, of Richlea, Saskatchewan, where they are now exploring their new Prairie home.

Immigration And Balanced Production

By C. W. Peterson

Every now and then objections are raised to policies having for their object an increase in Canada's population, on the grounds that we have not yet completely solved our industrial unemployment problem and, therefore, should not add to our present difficulties. Such objections are based on a complete misapprehension. They would undoubtedly be valid in fully developed, overpopulated countries, but that line of reasoning cannot consistently be applied to a new country like Canada. One family placed on a farm will create employment for from one to two additional families in our towns through its own consumption of commodities, machinery and the like and through producing the raw material of urban industry.

The recent European war and its aftermath brought home to the world a multitude of strange economic facts, many of them as old as the hills, but up to that time wholly unrecognized. One of the outstanding lessons taught mankind was that there is absolutely no limit to the amount of work to be done in this world, or to the amount of business to be developed. The truth is that over-production is inconceivable. The purchasing power of every country lies in its own power of production and the more each country produces, the greater may be its trade with other countries, and the more they all produce together, the greater the variety of comforts and necessities available for the world's population. We have not even approached within measurable distance of satisfying reasonable human wants have alone over-supplying them.

What Canada, and many other countries, has suffered from during recent years, and what has given rise to general unemployment, is not over-production, but unbalanced production. While Canada's population has been quickly distributed, our aggregate working force has been, and still is, vastly below our minimum national requirements. With millions of acres of the world's richest agricultural lands lying idle and undeveloped, and the world clamoring for food, it is paradoxical to harbor an unemployment problem. Widespread unemployment under such conditions is prima facie evidence of bankrupt statesmanship in so far as sufficient intelligence and energy has not been focused on the solution of a problem which obviously lends itself to correction by well known and proven methods, namely, the augmentation of our productive agricultural population, which would speedily find full time employment for our industrial plant.

MOSES HONORED IN HIS DEATH

Golden Text: Precious in the sight of Jehovah is the death of his saints. Psalm 116:15.

Lesson: Deuteronomy 32:45-52; 34:58.

Devotional Reading, Psalm 116:12-19.

Explanations and Comments

1. Moses Exhorts the People To Observe the Law. 32:45-47. The work of Moses was over. He earnestly charged the people to remember all the words of the law which he had given them and to command their children to keep the law.

"The natural and the appointed place for children to make the acquaintance of God is their own home. The most powerful and persuasive influences for declaring the actual sanctities of religion are the parents. I would prefer the early guidance of the illumined father and mother to the instruction of all the state teachers and official priests in Christendom."—(Dr. J. H. Jowett).

"For it is not a vain thing for you; because it is your life." In these words Moses reminded them how very important were the laws which they must observe—they were not trifles, but matters of life and death. "Through this thing ye shall prolong your days in the land, whither ye go over the Jordan to possess it."

If thou wouldst enter into life, keep the commandments" (Jesus).

Tay, Pay O'Connoo

Rt. Hon.—T. P. O'Connoo is 78 Years of Age

Rt. Hon. Thomas Power ("Tay Pay") O'Connoo, M.P., editor of T.P.'s and Cassell's Weekly, and censor of films, celebrated his 78th birthday recently.

Probably nobody of his age turns out so many newspaper columns as does this noted newspaper writer and statesman. His powers of writing reminiscences are prodigious. He is known by everybody among the famous ones of the world and by not a few of the infamous ones.

As "father" of the house of commons he was entertained by all parties in parliament at a luncheon on his 78th birthday. He was made a privy councillor in 1924. His became censor of films in 1917.

From His Viewpoint

The small boy had always been afraid of dogs. One day, after a long struggle to get him to pass a large dog, his mother scolded him for his timidity. "You'll be afraid of dogs, too," was his justification, "if you were as low down as I am."

Huge Fortune For Ex-Kaiser

Receives $250,000,000 for Quit Claim Against Germany

A complete settlement has been made between a representative of the Prussian state and the Hohenzollern family, according to Leipzig newspapers, whereby the former kaiser, crown prince and his families are to get 1,000,000,000 gold marks (about $250,000,000 for a quit claim against Germany).

Before the war the former kaiser's fortune was estimated at $100,000,000, whereas, according to reports, he is to get $250,000,000.

In addition, it is estimated the ex-kaiser has relinquished his claim on many castles.

"So This Is London"

Showing at The Opera House
Blairmore, Monday, Oct. 18th

The well known Allen Players with Verna Felton, a favorite with theatregoers all over the West, who are this season making a trans-Canada tour playing George M. Cohan's great comedy hit, "So This Is London," as a first class road show, are coming to the Blairmore Opera House on Tuesday, Oct. 18.

This company has just finished a record-breaking run of ten weeks in Vancouver where they played this great mirth provoker during that time to over 100,000 people. No such run ever before or since having been made by any company in this country. This record making run because the talk of theatrical folks all over, and as a result this clever company is in demand, and is already booked to appear in the principal cities from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

Considering the size of Vancouver it speaks volumes for the quality of the fare presented when one grasps the fact that for eighty performances the largest theatre there was packed to capacity—people coming over from Everett-Bellingham and Seattle—to enjoy what the Vancouver "Sun" characterized as "a perfect performance by a perfect cast," while the other dailies referred to it as "just one delicious, long, lingering laugh," and "amidst bursts of spontaneous and ever recurring laughter, the house rocked and roared with unrestrained glee." These friendly comments are not at all overdrawn, as the company is particularly fortunate in having in the cast, Americans for all the American parts and experienced

English artists of a high order for the English characters.

No finer presentation of this international comedy hit has—it is confidently asserted by those who know—ever been given, not even in London or New York, where in both metropolitan centres it ran for two whole seasons, becoming thereby the laugh of two nations, thus carrying out the intention of the author to show both Americans and Englishmen that they misunderstood each other, and not only that, but that each of them, were themselves largely to blame for the misunderstanding of the other.
